Pamplona, 10 September 2015

Integralia: Precision, Innovation and Service at next Busworld 2015

The minibus building company Integralia will show a selection of its products at the Busworld Fair 2015 in Kortrijk (Belgium), starring its in-vip plus model. This model is a development on the in-vip, which was recognised as the minibus of the year in Spain during the same year as its market launch. The microbus, which can accommodate up to 10 passengers, stands out due to its spaciousness and comfort. Its design offers passengers the feeling of unbeatable space and elegance within the characteristic style of the Integralia in-vip model, which will also be shown at the fair. It boasts “Integralia Top Class” thermal insulation and sound proofing, exclusive leather upholstery seats and individual spaces designed alongside the features exclusively made for this model, meaning passengers will definitely enjoy their journey in this vehicle.

In addition to the in-vip plus, visitors will also be able to assess the in-urban model. Integralia recently presented the 26-space version of this model in Germany to great market approval. The in-urban is a low-floor microbus with a Mercedes-Benz Sprinter 516. There are different configurations that allow direct access to up to three people with reduced mobility, one person in a wheelchair and a maximum of four folding seats.

The fair will also be a place where people can experience the virtues of the in-tourism with its PMR version. This Integralia vehicle is defined by its comfort, profitability and durability. The in-tourism is the perfect combination of pleasant, simple spaces that have considered the smallest details and which have been designed for the comfort of the passenger while maximising the cost-effectiveness and robustness of the vehicle. The PMR in-tourism minibus is available in different configurations, with a capacity of up to 19 passengers plus a platform, and seats for a driver and guide. Depending on the configuration chosen, the PMR in-tourism is capable of accommodating up to four wheelchairs. All versions are equipped with extremely comfortable seats with quick seat anchors, technical leather upholstery and many other customised options regarding colour choice and accessories.

The Integralia service will also be one of the protagonists at Busworld. The minibus building company offers three years of guarantee for its in-school, in-tourism and in-vip models. Furthermore, visitors will be able to experience the wonderful advantages on offer on the company’s extranet, which enables clients to access all the information related to their vehicles, documentation, technical data sheets and maintenance manuals in addition to ordering materials and contacting the SAT service online 24-hours 365 days a year. With all of these options, Integralia reaffirms its commitment to ensuring its clients always enjoy the best products and service on the market. Integralia will be present at Busworld Kortrijk (Belgium) from 16 to 21 October at Hall 1, Stand 112.
